Global Radio. NetWork your home. NetWork the world.

When we set out to create the best radio ever, we began with simple questions: "Suppose we could make a radio that does anything we want. What would that be? What would it look like? How would it work?"

The new Tivoli Audio® NetWorks™ Radio is the answer to those questions.

It looks and works like a radio from your dreams

First on our wish list is a radio that gets clear reception from any radio station, anywhere, anytime. People in cities often don't get good reception. And what if the radio station you want to listen to isn't nearby?

Now, Tivoli Audio NetWorks takes advantage of broadcasting over the Internet to deliver crystal clear reception of any radio station you like, near or far.

Plug it in, turn it on, and in just a minute or two NetWorks can bring you any radio station you choose. NetWorks comes preset to five news and music stations so that you can instantly start enjoying content from around the world. You set your favorites, easy as programming a car radio, and from then on, the stations you love are just one click away. No computer is needed, no extra equipment. NetWorks brings to the whole world of music, news, sports, and information to you.

Your home has more than one room.

The world's easiest home audio network

Next, we want a radio that could play all the music that's stored on PCs as digital files, without having to wire your whole house.

Using an Ethernet connection or the Wi-Fi network already set up in your home or office, NetWorks gives you an instant home network.

Plug in NetWorks, set it up once, and NetWorks has access to your music files from then on. You can control your music from any room in the house and simultaneously play different music in each room you place a NetWorks. Now, the music that lives on your PC can be played anywhere in your house or your office, with no need to wire the entire house or search for CDs.

NetWorks gives you the power to play the music on your PC, wherever and whenever you want it.

Wherever your music lives, you can play it here

NetWorks sounds great as a solo unit, but also offers the option of adding a stereo speaker. Or a CD player. Or a subwoofer. Beyond picking up any radio station in the world, it plays music from your PC, from your iPod®, or from CDs. NetWorks is the ultimate Digital Media Player.

With dual independent alarms, sleep, snooze, and FM, NetWorks also can function as an alarm clock. A USB port allows you to plug in your mp3 player or even play music off a Flash drive. Everything is managed with the remote control, from set-up to playback. NetWorks' easy-to-read, backlit display walks you through each step.

Beyond anything radio could do before now.

Every function can be controlled by the remote.

Easy set up, automatic upgrades, and Networks' Global Portal

It takes just a few minutes to set up NetWorks on your local Wi-Fi network, or using an ethernet cable. NetWorks comes with five Internet stations pre-set, but there are thousands more to explore. What do you like? Choose stations by Location, Genre, or Station Identity. Even Podcasts are found under Station lists. Make your own selection of Favorites, and then reach them with the touch of a button.

NetWorks automatically upgrades its own software, so you always have the most up-to-date version. There's an online community at NetWorks' Global Portal (<http://networks.tivoliaudio.com>) where you can connect with other users, get support, and instantly add new stations to your Favorites list. The future of radio makes it easy to find whatever content you like.
